The Markets

WALL STREET.

(By Leased Wire to Evening Herald)

New York, Oct. 8.—Irregularity gave way to moderate heaviness in today's stock market.

Pressure against steel, Union Pacific, Reading and other leaders was removed, all getting under yesterday's low quotations.

Foreign news was again disquieting. Practically, the only stocks to reflect strength here were Wheeling and Lake Erie issues and one of the local traction group.

Bonds were steady. Stocks inclined toward a betterment during the noon hour under lead of Reading and Steel. Amalgamated Copper was helped slightly on publication of the copper report.

The market closed irregular. In the last hour the only feature was the further weakness of Canadian Pacific closing price:

Call money, 4½ to 5 per cent.

Prime paper, 5½ to 6 per cent.

Silver, 64½¢.

Mexican dollars, 49¢.

Copper, $17.25 bid.

Great Northern, 141½.

New York Central, 117.

Northern Pacific, 129½.

Reading, 155½.

Southern Pacific, 112.

Union Pacific, 135½.

Steel preferred, 115½.

The mills are busy and working men are employed on full time. Do you want to change these conditions?

With President Taft elected for another four years, next year's prosperity will be bigger and better still.

Every vote other than for President Taft means a vote for disaster and the destruction of American interests.

Neither the farmer nor the working man wants free trade in place of the greatest conditions of prosperity. Who does?

Business men remember 1893 when the last Democratic administration caused universal distress and bankruptcy.

The full dinner pail is more of an issue in this campaign than is imagined. The workingman knows when he has a good thing—and he means to keep it.

It is not the custom of the country to turn down the administration in a year of great prosperity, and this year will be no exception to the rule.

During the last Democratic administration the workingman could buy a pretty good suit of clothes for $8, but he did not have the price. Under Republican rule since the worker has been buying $25 suits of clothes—and he has the price.

Instantly the cabman whipped up his horse and soon disappeared around the corner.—Answer.

Aviation.

Doing fancy "stunts" in an airplane is taking dangerous chances, of course, but even the man who does nothing but plain, everyday ornamental aviation is not regarded by the life insurance companies as a safe risk.—Chicago Tribune.

CABBY IN A HURRY.

One day it was raining very heavily in Berlin, when a wealthy merchant, on leaving the exchange, hailed a cab and asked to be driven to a distant part of the city. On the way the merchant discovered that he had forgotten to put his purse in his pocket. What was to be done? On reaching the destination he got out of the cab and said to the driver: "Will you please give me a match? I have dropped a sovereign on the floor of the cab."

Instantly the cabman whipped up his horse and soon disappeared around the corner.—Answer.
